If I'm not Catholic, is Mass a must for the kids and me?

My husband is Catholic, but I am not. I know he is supposed to attend Mass every Sunday. What about our children and me - Do we have to go, too?

If your children were baptized in the Catholic Church, then yes, they have to attend Mass. If you or they are not baptized, attendance is not required. One of the basic precepts of our Catholic faith is the obligation of the faithful to attend Mass on Sundays. ("You shall attend Mass on Sundays and holy days of obligation.") This assures our regular participation in the Eucharistic celebration and commemoration of the Lord's Resurrection (Catechism of the Catholic Church, 2042).

I know some other churches don't have the same understanding of obligation as Catholics do, but all Christian churches gather on Sundays. God's third commandment is, "Remember to keep holy the Lord's Day" (Exodus 20:8). It can be argued that there are many ways to keep the Sabbath holy, but Christ the Church, and I believe that the best way is to participate in and partake of the Eucharist - to remember his saving acts, especially the act of dying and rising, and receive his Presence within us. I encourage you to attend your own church or to go to Mass with your spouse and family. Not only will you keep the Lord's day holy, but God will make you holy as well.
