Dear Padre
October 9, 2016

If we practiced devotions linked to an indulgence, but didn't know about it, are the benefits still attained?

“Every sin, even venial, entails an unhealthy attachment to creatures, which must be purified either here on earth, or after death...” (CCC 1472). This “temporal punishment,” often removed in purgatory, is distinct from “eternal punishment,” from which we are saved through baptism and absolution.

Indulgences, which are granted through the mercy of God and the authority of the Church, remove all (if plenary) or part (if partial) of a person's temporal punishment for sin. Both presuppose the actions are performed with contrition and the intention of gaining the indulgence: “Although indulgences are in fact free gifts, nevertheless they are granted for the living as well as for the dead only on determined conditions. To acquire them, it is required on the one hand that prescribed works be performed, and on the other that the faithful have the necessary dispositions, that is to say that they love God, detest sin, place their trust in the merits of Christ and believe firmly in the great assistance they derive from the Communion of Saints” (Pope Paul VI, Indulgentiarum Doctrina, 10).

So indulgences are not retroactive or automatic, but they in no way “diminish the value of other means of sanctification and purification, first and foremost among which are the Sacrifice of the Mass and the Sacraments, particularly the Sacrament of Penance” (ID 11).
